As the date fixed for the big wrestling match draws nearer, interest in the event commences to deepen. Among the local enthusiasts of the game Bremner is picked for the winner and local money when wagered is backing him. Indications point that this will be the best match pulled off in Bowden and the public will get the worth of their money. Bremner is out to win back lost laurels and rumor has it that he has been doing some hard training since the time the men last met. Fast preliminaries have been arranged to take place before the main bout. The doors of McCues will be opened at 8 p.m.; the admission is 1.00 a ticket which entitles the holder to a ring side seat.

Born—To Mr and Mrs C Garvey of Curlew a son, Sunday Nov 6th.

Mrs H A Sams is sick with erysipelas.

The community was shocked to hear of the death of Clee Hall, last Sunday night. Clee was a bright young lad and promised to make his mark in this world. He had attained honors in election, winning the grand gold medal for the best talent from Saskatchewan and Alberta.

It was supposed to be blood poisoning of the kidneys that took him away. It was so sudden that the doctor did not arrive till he was unconscious.

Clee was 15 years and 7 months old. His funeral which was held on Tuesday was one of the largest in the history of Olds.

Several of the boys are trying their luck after deer these days.

Rev C C McFarvin gave a very interesting address on the Peace River district in the Baptist Church last Friday evening under the auspices of the Baptist Mission Circle.

INNS OF CHINA.

A Knock That Wrecked a Door and Raised a Rumpus.

Some of the inns of modern China are badly built. The correspondent of the London Times in traveling across the country recently had this experience: "At only one village had I any difficulty. We were marching late in the dark, and I had sent my groom on ahead to find me an inn, as he had often done before. He entered the village, and, finding the large inn door closed, he called out to the people to open it. But his Peking speech is not easily understood in Kansu, and no one answered him. Then he knocked, and to his dismay the crazy door fell down. Immediately there was a row. The innkeeper and his vociferous spouse shouted out their wrongs."

"Every one came into the street to hear; the whole village was roused. When I arrived it seemed like a demonstration in my honor. As is the custom, a dozen people together told me what had happened. I soon satisfied every one by first examining the damage and then paying compensation in full. I paid 100 cash (rather more than twopenny), and my generosity was approved."

"The structure thus damaged reminded me of the jerry built houses familiar to students in Edinburgh, where it is on record that a lodger once complained to his landlord that the ceiling in his room had fallen down. 'But how do you account for that?' asked the landlord. 'Somebody in the next flat sneezed,' replied the lodger."

The Water Pump.

The most ancient description we have of a water pump is by Hero of Alexandria. There is no authentic account of the general use of the pump in Germany previous to the beginning of the sixteenth century. At about that time the endless chain and bucket works for raising water from mines began to be replaced by pumps.

Needle's Journey.

A needle which entered the left knee of a dressmaker at Schroda, Posen, emerged some days later from the sole of her right foot.

A Ready Weapon Against Pain.—There is nothing equal to Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil when well rubbed in. It penetrates the tissues and pain disappears before it. There is no known preparation that will reach the spot quicker than this magic Oil. In consequence, it ranks first among liniments now offered to the public and is accorded first place among all its competitors.

Some people only feel that they are in reduced circumstances when they can no longer borrow.—Philadelphia Record.

We believe MINARD'S LINIMENT is the best:

Mathias Foley, Oil City, Ont.
Joseph Snow, Norway, Me.
Charles Whooten, Mulgrave, N.S.
Rev. R. O. Armstrong, Mulgrave, N.S.
Pierre Landers, sr. Pok-mouche, N.B.
Thomas Wasson, Sheffield, N.B.

Miffins—"What is the main advantage of Ruff's new shaving soap?"

Settens—"Why, it smartens the face so much that the pain caused by the dull razor can't be felt."

Shiloh's Cure
quickly stops coughs, cures colds, heals the throat and lungs. . . 25 cents.

No Place for Flirts.

The Owen Sound Herald is going to reform that town. Henceforth it will "freely and without regard to rank and person publish the name of every child of tender years, that is below the age of fourteen, whom it shall see upon the street after ten o'clock at night without the escort of a parent or guardian."

At any rate, some people are going to have an uncomfortable time unless they mend their ways. As a preliminary to the name-printing campaign, The Herald hurled a broadside entitled "Knocking the Flirt," followed the next week by an equally crushing article entitled "Landing the Flirt."

Was Nursed by Miss Nightingale.

"Duke" Cambridge, one of Kingston's oldest residents, has tender memories of the late Florence Nightingale, as the latter nursed him through an attack of cholera during the Crimean War. He was a member of the 9th Regiment. When he recovered she presented him with a black silk handkerchief.

The King's English.

The origin of the term "the king's English" seems to be a little shady, but there is no doubt as to what it meant and means. It dates back to the days when the king of England came as near to being educated as was anybody in the kingdom, and if he couldn't speak correctly there was no use in anybody trying.

Could we afford to buy and give away hundreds of thousands of 50-cent bottles of Psychine (pronounced Si-keen) if we did not know from a third of a century's experience that it was the greatest vitality-builder of the age?

You know what it would mean to us were Psychine a preparation without a definite, beneficial action.

After the first bottle which we would buy, no more would be purchased.

And we would go out of business. But we're not going out of business, and our confidence that we're not is based upon our third of a century's experience with Psychine.

Ten years after Confederation we commenced compounding Psychine.

Since that time, we have sold many millions of bottles.

We have cured many hundreds of thousands of virulent and oftentimes fatal cases of diseases.

We have in our files many hundreds of thousands of unsolicited testimonials.

And we have grown from a small beginning to be one of the largest proprietary manufacturers in this country.

Here then is proof that we have in Psychine a preparation with abundant and demonstrated effectiveness, more so than any other preparation we, or anyone else, ever heard of.

Here then is the reason of our unalterable confidence in Psychine, that it is in fact the greatest preparation of its kind in the world.

Here then is why we have inaugurated a policy of actually buying hundreds of thousands of bottles of Psychine to give to those who should use.

To those who are blindly groping in the dark for relief from their misery, who may perhaps be using wrong methods to recover their health and their strength.

WOULD NOT BE WITHOUT BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Mothers having once used Baby's Own Tablets for their little ones would not be without them. These Tablets are a never failing remedy for the little ills such as constipation, colic, worms, colds, etc., that afflict so many little ones. And then, too, they can be given with absolute safety to the youngest child for they are sold under the guarantee of a Government analyst to contain no opiate or other harmful drug. Concerning them Mrs. Chas. Whatley, Peterboro, Ont., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my little girl and have found them to be of great value. Others to whom I have recommended the Tablets say they would not be without them." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"Why, was he so in love with you?"

"Oh, no. He was so in love with himself."

These white corpuscles eat any germ of disease that gains an entrance to the body, when they're in large enough numbers and sufficiently strong.

When they're not sufficiently strong, the disease germs devour them and disease holds the body.

For centuries almost, herbs, nature's own remedies, have been the most efficient foe to disease.

We have not known very definitely just how.

But now science tells us that certain of these herbs increase the number of the white corpuscles and their strength.

These certain herbs are incorporated in Psychine.

We go to the ends of the earth for these herbs—to Arabia, to South America, to China and to Japan.

They are compounded in the most costly chemical appliances in this country.

And the result is Psychine—for a third of a century the most effective vitality-builder the world has known.

The one preparation that has cured many thousands of the following diseases:

La Grippe	Bronchial Coughs
Bronchitis	Weak Lungs
Hemorrhages	Weak Voice
Sore Throat	Spring Weakness
Anaemia	Early Decline
Female Weakness	Catarrhal Affections
Indigestion	Catarrh of Stomach
Poor Appetite	Night Sweats
Chills and Fevers	Obstinate Coughs
Sleeplessness and	Laryngitis and
Nervous Troubles	Dyspepsia
After-effects of Pleurisy, Pneumonia and La Grippe

Dribbles—I don't believe it.

Scribbles—Don't believe what—that he can write a book?

Dribbles—Oh, he may be able to write a book, but I don't believe he has a great mind.—Chicago Daily News.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Relief From Suffering Everywhere.—He whose life is made miserable by the suffering that comes from indigestion and has not tried Parmelee's Vegetable Pills does not know how easily this formidable foe can be dealt with. These Pills will relieve where others fail. They are the result of long and patient study, and are confidently put forward as a sure corrector of disorders of the digestive organs, from which so many suffer.

We will undoubtedly buy and distribute in this manner hundreds of thousands of these 50-cent bottles of Psychine.

And we do that to show our entire confidence in this wonderful preparation.

A confidence that has been based on our 30 years' experience with this splendid preparation, with a full knowledge of the hundreds of thousands of cures it has made.

Ottawa Deputation

Fred W Green, of Moose Jaw, secretary-treasurer of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association, was in Toronto last week in conference with E C Drury, Master of the Dominion Grange.

The conference had to do with arrangements for the monster deputation of farmers which is to go to Ottawa for the purpose of impressing the Dominion Government with the necessity of further tariff reduction and reciprocity with the United States.

It was practically arranged that the deputation will reach Ottawa on the morning of Thursday 15th of December, spend that day in consultation and wait on the Dominion Government the day following.

If this plan meets the view of the Western organization the Dominion Grange will meet on Tuesday and Wednesday, December 22 and 23 and after concluding its business on the evening of the 14th leave for Ottawa by night train, and join there the delegates from the West who will go through direct by way of Winnipeg and North Bay.

Want A. C. N. R. Branch

The Innisfail Board of Trade held a well attended and successful meeting to discuss the railway situation as to how it affects the town and surrounding country. Mr John Barnett, solicitor and secretary, said it was believed the C N R could be induced to take up its proposed charter from Fox Coulee to Mountain House by way of Innisfail. A resolution was passed that the meeting urge upon the provincial government the necessity of guaranteeing the bonds for a railway line to run from Fox Coulee northwesterly through Innisfail to Mountain House and thence to the Brazeau coal fields. This is to be coupled with the condition that construction be commenced at once and the line put through with all possible speed. Committees were appointed to secure all information as to population and resources of the districts affected by the proposed line, and to put this information in the best shape for presentation to the government; to interview J A Simpson, M P P, and Hon Duncan Marshall and possibly other members of the House with a view to ascertaining the best way to approach the government and arrange a date for a meeting with the cabinet.

The fight against tuberculosis carried on in Ireland by the Women's National Health Association under the direction of the Countess of Aberdeen is having good effect. There was 699 fewer deaths from tuberculosis than in the preceding year. This is energy expended in a good cause.

A story comes from the far north of Canada that a lake larger than Lake Superior has been discovered there. The rumor is one to make people sit up and wonder where the limits of Canada's resources are to be placed.

Correspondence

From Trochu Times

Editor of the Trochu Times: Sir. Now that the time is drawing near when the lots in the Trochu Townsite will be placed on the market, would it not be advisable for the business people of the village to make certain beforehand that they will be able to secure lots which they will, naturally, require for business purposes. I understand that a good many months ago, before the townsite was surveyed, a petition, signed by the prominent residents of Trochu, was sent to the G T P land commissioner requesting that certain privileges be granted to them in connection with the purchasing of lots. I am not aware that any result has been obtained from that petition.

We must not overlook the very important fact that it is quite within the bounds of possibility for a few speculators to buy up the best in the townsite and hold them at a high figure. That is a condition of things which is to be avoided at all costs. Nothing could be more detrimental to the best interests of the town.

I think, therefore, that the business people and residents of the village should hold a general meeting as soon as possible and discuss this very important matter.

Yours truly,
Resident of Trochu.

CHAPTER XXV.

THE TRIAL OF VON BLITZ.

THE next morning found the weather unsettled. There had been a fierce storm during the night, and a nasty mist was blowing up from the sea. Deppingham kept to his room, although his cold was dissipated.

Chase had been up nearly all of the night, fearful lest the islanders should seize the opportunity to scale the walls under cover of the tempest. All through the night he had been possessed of a spirit of wild bravado, a glorious exultation. He was keeping watch over her, standing between her and peril, guarding her while she slept. His thoughts, however, did not contemplate the princess fair in a state of wretched insomnia, with himself as the disturbing element.

He looked for her at breakfast time. They usually had their rolls and coffee together. When she did not appear he made more than one pretext to lengthen his own stay in the breakfast room. "She's trying to forget yesterday," he reflected.

Selim came to him in the midst of his reflections, bearing a thick, rain-soaked envelope.

"It was found, excellency, inside the southern gate, and it is meant for you," said Selim. Chase gingerly slashed open the envelope with his fruit knife. He laughed ruefully as he read the simple but laborious message from Jacob von Blitz:

"Where are your warships all this time? They are not coming to you ever. Goodbye. You got to die yet too. Your friend, Jacob von Blitz. And my wives too."

Chase stuffed the blurred, sticky letter into his pocket and arose to stretch himself.

"There's something coming to you, Jacob," he said, much to the wonder of Selim. "Selim, unless I miss my guess pretty badly, we'll be having a message, not from Garcia, but from Rasula before long. How are my cigarettes holding out?"

"They run low, sahlib. Neenah has given all of hers to me for you, excellency, and I have demanded those of the wives of Von Blitz."

"Selim, you must not forget that you are a gentleman. That was most un-gallant. But I suppose you got them?"

"No, sahlib. They refused to give them up. They are saving them for Mr. Britt," said Selim dejectedly.

"Ah, the fickety of women!" he sighed. "There's a new word for you, Selim—fickety."

It was far past midday when he heard from Rasula. He had seen the princess but once, and then she was walking briskly, wrapped in a rain coat, followed by her shivering dogs and her two Rapp-Thorberg soldiers. Somehow she failed to see Chase as he sauntered hungrily, almost imploringly, across the upper terrace, in plain view. Perhaps, after all, it was not the weather.

Rasula's messenger came to the gates and announced that he had a letter for Mr. Chase. Rasula had this to say:

We have reason to suspect that you were right in your suspicions. The golden plate has been found this day in the cave below the chateau, just as you have said. This much of what you have charged against Jacob von Blitz seems to be borne out by the evidence secured. Last night there was an attempt to rob the vaults in the company's bank. Again I followed your advice and laid a trap for the men engaged. They were slain in the struggle which followed. I have to inform you, sir, that your charge against Jacob von Blitz does not hold good in the case of the bank robbery. Therefore I am impelled to believe that you may have unjustly accused him of being implicated in the robbery of the treasure chests. He was not among the bank thieves. There were but three of them—the Boer foremen. Jacob von Blitz came up himself and joined us in the fight against the traitors. He was merciless in his anger against them. You have said that you will testify against him. Sir, I have taken it upon myself to place him under restraint notwithstanding his actions against the Boers. He shall have a fair trial. If it is proved that he is guilty, he shall pay the penalty. We are just people.

Sir, we, the people of Japat, will take you at your word. We ask you to appear against the prisoner and give evidence in support of your charge. He shall be placed on trial tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. On my honor as a man and a believer I assure safety to you while you are among us on that occasion. I, Rasula, will meet you at the gates and will conduct you back to them in safety. If you are a true man, you will not evade the call.

RASULA.

"Well, it looks as though von Blitz has spiked your guns," said Deppingham. "The dog turns against his confederates and saves his own skin by killing them."

"In any event," said Browne, "you spoiled his little game. He loses the treasure, and he didn't get into the vaults. Rasula should take those points into consideration."

"He won't forget them, rest assured. That's why I'm sure that he'll take my word at the trial as against that of Von Blitz," said Chase.

"You—you don't mean to say, Mr. Chase, that you are going into the town?" cried Lady Agnes, wide-eyed.

"Certainly, Lady Deppingham. They are expecting me."

"Don't be foolhardy, Chase. They will kill you like a rat!" exclaimed Deppingham.

"Oh, no, they won't," said the other confidently. "They've given their promise through Rasula. Whatever else they may be, they hold a promise sacred. They know I'll come. If I don't they'll know that I am a coward. You wouldn't have them think I am a coward, would you, Lady Deppingham?"

The next morning he coolly set forth for the gates, scarcely thinking enough of the adventure to warrant the matter of fact goodbyes that he bestowed upon those who were congregated to see him off. His heart was sore as he strode rapidly down the drive. Geneva had not come down to say farewell.

"By heaven," he muttered, strangely vexed with her, "I fancy she means it. She's bent on showing me my place. But she might have come down and wished me good luck. That was little enough for her to do. Ah, well!" he sighed, putting it away from him.

As he turned into the tree-lined avenue near the gate a slender young woman in a green and white gown arose from a seat in the shade and stepped a pace forward, opening her parasol quite leisurely as he quickened his steps. Her eyes gleamed brightly, and she was breathing as one who has run swiftly.

"You are determined to go down there among those men?" she demanded, the smile suddenly giving way to a look of disapproval. She ignored his hand.

"Certainly," he said after the moment of bewilderment. "Why not? I thought you had made up your mind to let me go without a word for good luck." She found great difficulty in meeting the wistful look in his eyes. "You are good to come down here to say goodbye. We're almost strangers again."

"I did not come down to say goodbye," she said, her lips trembling ever so slightly.

"I don't understand," he said.

"I am going with you into the town—as a witness," she said, and her face went pale at the thought of it.

"Geneva," he cried, "you—you would do that?"

"Why not, Mr. Chase?" She tried to speak calmly, but she was trembling. After all, she was a slender, helpless girl—not an amazon! "I saw and heard everything. They won't believe you unsupported. They won't harm me. If I swear to them that what you say is true they'll—"

Her hand was on his arm now, trembling, eager, yet charged with fear at the prospect ahead of her. He clasped the little hand in his and quickly lifted it to his lips.

"I'm happy again!" he cried. "It's all right with me now." She withdrew her hand on the instant.

"No, no! It isn't that," she said, her eyes narrowing. "Don't misinterpret my coming here to say that I will go. It isn't because—no, it isn't that!"

"I was unhappy because you had forsaken me," he said gently. "You are brave—you are wonderful! But I can't take you down there. I know what will happen if they find him guilty. Goodbye, dear one. I'll come back—surely I'll come back. Thank you for sending me away happy."

"Won't you let me go with you?" she asked after a long, penetrating look into his eyes.

"I would not take you among them for all the world. You forget. Neither of us would come back."

"Neither of us?" she said slowly.

"I wouldn't come back without you," he said quietly, earnestly. She understood. "Goodbye! Don't worry about me. I am in no danger."

"Goodbye," she said, the princess once more. "I shall pray for you with all my soul." She gave him her hand. It was cold and lifeless. He pressed it warmly and went quickly away, leaving her standing there in the still shade of the satinwoods, looking after him with eyes that grew wider and wider with the tears that welled up from behind.

Hours went by—slow, tortuous hours in which the souls of those who watched and waited for his return were tried to the utmost.

Once there came to the ears of the watchers on the mountain side the sound of distant shouts, later the brief rattle of firearms. The blood of every one turned cold with apprehension. Every voice was stilled, every eye wide with dread. Neenah screamed as she fled across the terrace toward the drawbridge, where Selim stood as motionless as a statue.

tionless as a statue.

Luncheon time passed, and again, as if drawn by a magnet, the entire household made its way to the front of the chateau.

At last Selim uttered a shout of joy. He forgot the deference due his betters and unceremoniously dashed off toward the gates, followed by Neenah, who seemed possessed of wings.

Chase was returning!

They saw him coming up the drive, his hat in his hand, his white umbrella raised above his head. The eager, joyous watchers saw him greet Selim and his fluttering wife. They saw Selim fall upon his knees, and they felt the tears rushing to their own eyes.

"Hurray!" shouted little Mr. Saunders in his excitement. Bowles and the three clerks joined him in the exhibition. The princess was conscious of the fact that at least five or six pairs of eyes were watching her face. She closed her lips and compelled her eyelids to obey the dictates of a resentful heart. She lowered them until they gave one the impression of indolent curiosity, even indifference. All the while her incomprehensible heart was thumping with a rapture that knew no allegiance to royal conventions.

YOUR-WIFE'S BRIDGE PARTY.

How to Act When You Unexpectedly Blunder In Upon It.

It is inevitable that just once in your life you will make the mistake of coming home early on an afternoon when your wife is entertaining a bridge party. Therefore it is important that you should know how to act on that occasion.

When it dawns upon you that you have blundered into a bridge party do not stand just inside the door twiddling your thumbs and looking embarrassed. Any show of embarrassment will prove what your wife has so often said—that the children get their gawky tendencies from their father's side of the house.

Say "Hello, girls!" as you carelessly toss your hat into a corner. This greeting will please your wife's elderly guests and will make the younger ones admire your nerve. While your wife is still gasping her admiration hang your coat on the hatrack, put your collar and tie on the mantel and as you loosen the neckband of your shirt and kick off your shoes ask her where your slippers are. A wife is always proud to be able to help her husband.

Above all—and this is very important—do not go away and hide yourself in an upstairs room. When you have been to your den and have filled and lighted your oldest and noisiest pipe, come downstairs and mingle with your wife's guests. Criticize the plays made by the various contestants. Occasionally chuckle and say "Great Scott!" when your wife makes a questionable play.

If at supper time the party is still absorbed in the game and the children are sitting in a row on the kitchen steps crying for bread do not spoil your wife's play by telling her about it or by throwing out hints which probably she is too engrossed to notice. The tactful way to attract her attention is to burn a smudge in the attic—a few old rags in a brazier will smoke splendidly—then turn in a fire alarm and go downtown.

Later don't forget to send your wife a telegram to the effect that you have been called out of town on business and will not be back for a week.

Pongee Petticoats.

Paris says the pongee petticoat is new. It is made of the natural colored silk, with a scant ruffle, and is very closely fitted over the hips. Its only trimming is an insertion along the ruffle's edge of coffee colored linen lace or a few rows of ecru colored soutache braid.

By using a pattern for the nomenclature petticoat there is no reason why it cannot be made to look quite as well as those made by the skirt expert.

All My Pimples Gone

Girl Tells How a Blotchy Skin Was Cleansed by a Simple Wash

"I was ashamed of my face," writes Miss Minnie Pickard, of Altamahaw. "It was all full of pimples and scars, but after using D. D. D. Prescription I can say that now there is no sign of that eczema, and that was three years ago."

D. D. D. has become so famous as a cure and instant relief in eczema and all other serious skin diseases, that its value is sometimes overlooked in clearing up rash, pimples, blackheads, and all other minor forms of skin impurities.

The fact is, that while D. D. D. is so penetrating that it strikes to the very root of eczema or any other serious trouble, the soothing Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients are so carefully compounded there is no wash for the skin made that can compare with this great household remedy for every kind of skin trouble.

D. D. D. is pleasant to use, perfectly harmless to the most delicate skin, and absolutely reliable. Write the D. D. D. Laboratories, Dept. T. F., 49 Colborne St., Toronto, for a free trial bottle, and prove its wonderful effectiveness.

External Treatment Necessary for Eczema

Surprising Results Obtained from DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT in Treating This Obstinate Skin Trouble.

Eczema may arise from a variety of causes but once started it is a skin disease that will continue to spread and become more annoying until local, external treatment effects a cure.

This is why Dr. Chase's Ointment has supplanted the old-fashioned internal treatments which were always disappointing in results.

When this soothing, healing ointment is applied you see and feel the benefits in short order. The itching, stinging sensations are overcome and with the wonderful relief thus obtained you are encouraged to continue the treatment until gradually the sores are healed up and the disease thoroughly wiped out.

What is so annoying and discouraging as disfiguring, itching skin diseases. In Dr. Chase's Ointment you have a cure for such ailments and this ointment is so clean, pure and soothing that it becomes a great pleasure to use it. Its use makes the skin soft, smooth and velvety and for this reason it is much sought by persons whose skin is susceptible to the changes of weather.

Mrs. Link, 12 Walker street, Halifax, N. S., states:—"After three years of miserable torture and sleepless nights with terrible eczema, and after trying over a dozen remedies without obtaining anything but slight temporary relief, I have been perfectly and entirely cured by using Dr. Chase's Ointment. After the third or fourth application of this grand ointment I obtained relief, and a few boxes were sufficient to make a thorough cure. It is six months since I was freed from this wretched skin disease, and as there has been no return of the trouble I consider the cure a permanent one."

HIRED APPLAUSE.

The Great Rachel Made the Claque Earn Its Money.

Speaking of applause in theaters, a theatrical man relates the following concerning the great actress Rachel:

"It seems that upon a certain opening night Rachel received enthusiastic applause, but on the second night it was so noticeably slim that the actress felt deeply grieved and bitterly complained that the claque was not doing its duty. The leader of the hired 'applause makers' on hearing of her displeasure wrote her a letter in which he endeavored to excuse himself from any blame."

"Mademoiselle—I cannot remain under the obloquy of a reproach from such lips as yours," he began. "The following is an authentic statement of what really took place: At the first representation I led the attack in person not less than thirty-three times. We had three acclamations, four hilarities, two thrilling movements, four renewals of applause and two indefinite explosions. In fact, to such an extent did we carry our applause that the occupants of the stalls were scandalized and cried out a la porte!"

"My men were positively exhausted with fatigue and even intimated to me that they could not again go through such an evening. Seeing such to be the case, I applied for the manuscript, and after having profoundly studied the piece I was obliged to make up my mind for the second representation to certain curtailments in the service of my men."

"The writer thus goes on at some length to assure the actress he will try to make future amends and requests her to believe in his profound admiration."—Exchange.

TALKING IN FIGURES.

Significance of Certain Numbers In the Telegraphers' Code.

"In the telegraphers' code numbers have special significance of which the general public is not aware," remarked a veteran key night the other day.

"Most everybody knows that 30 means 'good night,' or the end of a story, but few outside the profession know that 31 is also a code sign. Railroad operators, however, know that this call is a signal to the operator at the other end to come back and repeat train signals to the sending operator. It also has another meaning. 'Train order' to be signed by conductor and engine driver. Nineteen, on the other hand, means that the train order is not to be signed by conductor or engine driver. Twenty-four has also the latter significance on some roads."

"Five is simply an interrogation point and in the vernacular could be translated 'Anything doing?' Thirteen signifies 'Do you understand?' Twenty-five means 'busy,' but nobody seems to know how it came to have that significance unless perhaps it means that the operator is still in the midst of his work, being some distance away from 30."

"Seventy-three means 'best regards,' and newspaper men and operators employ this expression constantly. Of course 23 has come to mean in this numerical language just what it does in ordinary parlance, 'skiddoo,' 'vamoose' or 'butt out' or any of the thousand and one other equivalents."—New York Herald.

A Seditious Post.

One of the editors of the Nationalist newspaper El Alam has published at Cairo a book of poems said to contain seditious matter, eulogizing the two assassins Dhimra and Wardani, vilifying the murdered Premier Boutros Pasha, denouncing the British occupation, and threatening the Khedive. Ferid Bey, leader of the Nationalist party, wrote a preface recommending the book. The book has been confiscated, and the author of the poems has suddenly disappeared from the ken of the authorities.

Resurrection

President Johnson of the American league was pointing out to a sporting editor the wonderful money-making possibilities of the baseball business.

"Baseball is ingrained in our people," he said. "They'll give their time and money to baseball though the heavens fall."

"There's a spice of truth in the story of the boss who said to his office boy:

"Well, Henry, I don't see how you will get to any of the games this season?" as your grandmother died twice while football was on."

"But, sir," said the boy, "grandfather has married again much against the wishes of the family."

ARE KNOWN AS THE FARMER'S FRIEND

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS DOING GREAT WORK IN THE PRAIRIES.

Michael Anderson Joins the Throng Who are Shouting their Praises—They cured His Gravel and Rheumatism.

Pine Valley, Man. (Special).—Michael Anderson, a well-known farmer living near here, is added to the number of those who have sent the cry echoing over the Prairies, "Dodd's Kidney Pills are the farmer's friend." And truly Mr. Anderson has reason to praise the great Canadian Kidney remedy. Listen to his experience:

"A strain and a bad cold started my troubles," says Mr. Anderson, "and for twelve long years I was a victim of Kidney Trouble, Rheumatism and Gravel. Doctors attended me, and I tried many medicines, but they did not cure me. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me in less than one month."

It is easy to do anything when you know how. Mr. Anderson went right to the root of his trouble. He cured his Kidneys by using Dodd's Kidney Pills, and with the root gone the other disease disappeared. Dodd's Kidney Pills always make healthy kidneys and with healthy kidneys, you can't have Rheumatism or Gravel.

TWO AND A HALF HOURS ON OPERATING TABLE.

Specialist Could Not Remove Stone in The Bladder.

GIN PILLS PASSED IT.

Joliette, P. Q. "During last August I went to Montreal to consult a specialist as I had been suffering terrible with Stone in the Bladder."

He decided to operate but said the stone was too large to remove and too hard to crush. I returned home and was recommended by a friend to try GIN PILLS.

They relieved the pain. I took two boxes and went back to the specialist. He said the stone was smaller, but he could not remove it, although he tried for two hours and a half. I returned home and continued to take GIN PILLS, and to my great surprise and joy, I passed the stone.

GIN PILLS are the best medicine in the world, and because they did me so much good, I will recommend them all the rest of my life."

ROYAL COMMISSION TO HOLD SESSIONS IN ALBERTA

The Royal Commission on Industrial Training and Technical Education to hold sessions in Alberta this month—will visit many leading cities in Alberta and British Columbia.

Calgary.—The royal commission on industrial training and technical education, of which James W. Robertson, C.M.G., D.Sc., LL.D., is chairman, will hold sessions in Calgary commencing Nov. 19.

The commission will give particular attention to the manufacturing industries, to agriculture, to domestic occupations, to the fisheries, to the lumber interests, to the building trades, to the transportation services, as well as to the technical training required for commercial operations. It will also make inquiries into the needs of existing industries in respect of labor, the quality of labor which is available, and the needs of such labor for industrial training and technical education.

The commission is composed of James W. Robertson, chairman; Hon. John Neville Armstrong, Rev. George Bryce, Gaspard D. Serres, Gilbert M. Murray, B.A.; David Forsyth, B.A.; and James Simpson. The itinerary includes Port Arthur, Fort William, Winnipeg, Portage la Prairie, Brandon, Moose Jaw, Regina, Saskatoon, Prince Albert, Strathcona, Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Vancouver, Nanaimo, Victoria, Fernie, Nelson and Vernon.

Among the questions which will be asked and the information required by the commission are—the number of schools, colleges, or other institutions where any industrial training or technical education is carried on; the names of important industries; the board of trade or chamber of commerce; the number of public libraries; the names of any institutions for physical training, or any other information that parties interested may see fit to volunteer.

The work of the commission is not intended to be confined to the Dominion of Canada, but will also inquire into the systems and methods of technical instruction obtained in other countries, particularly Great Britain, France, Germany and the United States. When compiled this information will be published in a report and will be available for general distribution, and at the disposal of the different governments or bodies desiring to refer to it with the object of improving the local conditions.

PHOTOGRAPHING PRISONERS

Inspector of Dominion Police Started on the Work at Edmonton Penitentiary

Edmonton.—The inspector of Dominion police, E. Foster, with his assistant, T. P. Quinn, began the work of taking the photographs and thumb prints of all the prisoners in the penitentiary recently. Mr. Foster takes all the photographs personally and also the thumb prints, and as there are at present 169 prisoners, it will be ten days or a fortnight before the work is finished. Mr. Foster is on his way back from Vancouver where he assisted the police in the Chinese immigration problem.

The Edmonton penitentiary is the last that he will visit, going from here back to Ottawa. The photographs and thumb prints are being taken for the purpose of establishing a Canadian criminal identification bureau at Ottawa.

NO GRAIN SHORTAGE

As a Result of Last Year's Overhauling Nothing Serious This Year

Ottawa.—It is stated by the department of trade and commerce that there are no serious complaints of grain shortage between terminal elevators at Port Arthur and Fort William and Georgian Bay lake ports. As a result of complaints made last year all scales were overhauled and other precautions taken with satisfactory results. Mr. David Horn, the chief inspector of grain at Winnipeg, who recently resigned will retire on Nov. 1. The work will be carried on by Thos. Horn, senior, who is in service at Winnipeg and who will probably succeed to the post.

Alberta Appeal Will Come Soon

London.—The appeals in the action of the minister of public works for the province of Alberta vs. the C. P. R. and the attorney general of Saskatchewan, and the King vs. the C. P. R. and the attorney general of Saskatchewan have been set down for hearing before the judicial committee of the privy council.

Judgment will be given in the following cases: Bank of Montreal vs. Stuart, Standard Ideal Co. vs. Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Co., and the Burrard Power Co. vs. the King.

Want Prayers in English and Dutch

Capetown.—Onsland, the Dutch paper here, says that as both English and Dutch are recognized as official languages in the new confederation of South Africa, the session of parliament should be opened with prayers in both languages. The Onsland refers to Canada where sessions are opened on alternate days with English and French prayers. It advocates a similar procedure here.

NATIONALIZE RAILWAYS

Signs That All the English Roads May Be Put Under Government Direction

London.—There are signs here that point at a coming nationalization of English railroads. The army of railroad employees want it with all their heart and the actions of the railroad companies themselves are hastening its coming. Following the example of the American roads the railroads of England have formed combines and signed working agreements and even in a country as conservative as England it is generally admitted, that this grouping of the roads will eventually give them such monopoly and power that the suffering public will demand that the State must own them as it now owns the telegraph and telephone service.

At the recent congress of British railroad employees a resolution was almost unanimously carried that they must encourage the coming of State Ownership by every means within their power, and also that they must see, too, that they are adequately represented in the House of Commons when the change comes. Not one member expressed a doubt that come it must.

TO ADVANCE TRADE

Speeches Reached a High Level of Excellence at the British Chamber of Commerce Dinner

London.—There was a large and influential gathering at the Bristol Chamber of Commerce dinner to welcome the Chambers of Commerce commission recently sent to Canada. The speeches reached a high level of excellence. All the speakers dwelt upon the great possibilities of the extension of trade between Canada and the mother country and the desire of the colorists to promote it in every way. H. W. Just, who recently visited the Dominion, responding to the toast, "Our Empire," specially referred to Commissioner Griggs' valuable work in the interests of British trade. Mr. Griggs had done much to foster British trade with the Dominion and he understood the Bristol deputation was much impressed with the value of Griggs' assistance and advice. Mr. Just corroborated all he said. The deputation reported great possibilities of Canada as a market and said the inhabitants were enthusiastic over the subject.

THE POPE VERY MUCH PLEASED

Cardinal Vannutelli Makes His Report on the Eucharistic Congress

Rome.—The Pope recently gave a private audience to Cardinal Vannutelli, who recently returned from his mission in America, where he was the Papal legate to the Eucharistic Congress at Montreal.

The cardinal described the congress as notably successful, and said the Catholic church occupied a leading position in American life. The Catholics are at once staunch, patriotic citizens and zealous churchmen, and so constituted a strong guarantee of order and an efficacious barrier against subversive elements. The Pontiff was much pleased at the recital of the legate, whose journey, His Holiness said, he followed with interest.

COMPETITIVE LINE THREATENED

Vancouver Papers Urge Grant of Subsidy to Steamship Line

Vancouver, B. C.—The press of Vancouver is urging that as the existence of the Canadian-Australian steamship line is threatened by the establishment of a competitive line from San Francisco to New Zealand the Dominion government should award a five years' contract for a mail subsidy on the Canadian route. Tenders for Canadian, New Zealand, Australian ocean mail carrying service will be opened by the department of trade and commerce at Ottawa on November 1. Vancouver merchants declare that a five-year contract is necessary to insure a first-class service.

CHRISTMAS WARNING

Several Countries Will Not Tolerate Charity Stamps in Their Mails

Washington.—The first official note of the approach of Christmas has just appeared when the post office department issued a warning to all postmasters that Portugal, Guatemala and Uruguay refuse to admit to their mails articles bearing non-postage Christmas stamps or other adhesive charity stamps, however, is limited to such stamps as resemble postage stamps. Other countries, such as Great Britain, Germany, British East Africa and a host of British dependencies will admit articles bearing such stamps when the stamps are affixed to the reverse and not to the address side.

Daring Aeronauts in Montreal

Montreal.—Augustus Post and Alan R. Hawley, the balloonists, about whom so many inquiries were being made a week ago, continued their journey as far as this city. They were met here by a representative of the Automobile and Aero club and were entertained by the president and directors of that organization at breakfast.

English Boys for Our Navy

London.—Fifteen boys from the training ship Exmouth have been selected to join the Canadian navy.

BRING MANY SETTLERS

C. N. R. WILL ENGAGE IN IMMIGRATION WORK

Stated Company Will Enter Energetically into Business of Importing Settlers from the Old Country—Agent to Interview Alberta Government—Organizing Active Campaign for this Winter.

Calgary.—D. Howell, formerly chief immigration agent of the Salvation army, and now serving in a similar capacity under the colors of the Canadian Northern railway company, passed through this city recently, en route to Edmonton. He purposes waiting upon the government with reference to some immigration matters.

The immigration department of the Canadian Northern is just being organized, and that company will enter energetically into the business of importing settlers next spring.

It is chiefly with a view to gaining a promise from the government of Alberta that all within the power of this province will be done to facilitate the finding of work for the immigrants upon their arrival here. Mr. Howell has been at Victoria, B.C., and claims to have been given the assurance of the British Columbia government that everything possible will be done to assist the immigrants there.

Among other things the company is arranging for a large staff of immigration agents in Great Britain. Several are now on their way to the old country, while others will leave within a short time.

This winter they will carry on an active campaign across the Atlantic, and will organize several parties to come to Canada in the spring. In this manner the experiment of bringing parties into the country in the early part of the spring will be tried.

TO VISIT IRELAND

King George Will Probably Pay a Visit to the Emerald Isle

London.—To get into closer touch with the people of Ireland and to show them that they are as near his heart as the people of England and Scotland, King George is said to be considering spending some time every year in Ireland's capital. I am informed on excellent authority, that the King has been discussing with his political advisers, the members of the Liberals and Mr. Balfour as leader of the opposition of the advisability of abolishing the Irish vicereignty. If the plan meets with their approval King George is willing to give up the time he has spent at Biarritz and cruising in the Mediterranean to put in a residence of three or four weeks during the early spring in the Castle of Dublin. Should it not prove feasible to carry out this plan next spring King George will at least pay a lengthy visit to Ireland some time before his coronation.

BRITISH EDITOR IS FINED

Evening News Editor Mulcted for Publishing Article Calculated to Prejudice Crippen's Case

London.—In the high court of justice the editor of the Evening News was fined £200 for contempt of court in having published a story of the conference between Richard Muir, prosecuting counsel in the Crippen case, and the quarter-master of the steamer Montrose. According to the newspaper's story the ship's officer had revealed the plan by which he and Crippen had arranged to bring about the latter's escape from the vessel while he was being pursued by British authorities. The court held that the publication of the story was calculated to prejudice the case of Crippen when the latter should be brought to trial for the murder of his wife.

Big Game Plentiful

Fort William.—Trainmen running between Fort William and Winnipeg state that never before in their experience on the road have big game been as plentiful as this fall. C. Fregeau, veteran Canadian Pacific engineer, and his fireman, counted five moose near the track between Sheba and English, about sixty miles. Two moose have been killed by locomotives west of here during the past ten days.

BLAME C. N. R. FOR FIRE

Men Who Have Investigated the Blaze at Rainy River Make Report

Minneapolis, Minn.—The Canadian Northern railway is held responsible for the fire which destroyed Beaudette, in the report made to General C. C. Andrews, forestry commissioner, by George Chapin, St. Paul, and Frank Curtis, of Roosevelt, who have been investigating the origin.

The report says there is sufficient evidence to show that the fire was set by the railroad on the Canadian side during the latter part of July. The fire worked south to the north branch of the Beaudette river and north to Rainy River, covering about eight square miles. It burned up to the west side of Beaudette and lay smouldering until October 7 when it was fanned by a terrific wind and led to the disaster. About the same time the fire was seen on the right-of-way just east of Winter Road river. This fire worked east three miles and about two miles back on each side of the track, where it connected with the fire which was started on the Beaudette side of the river.

Eight prosecutions against the Canadian Northern railway for allowing combustible material on the right-of-way are now pending in the district court of Beltrami county. The railroad is fighting the constitutionality of the law. If the state wins in these cases the forestry department plans to bring action against the Canadian Northern for sixteen other fires alleged to have been set since July. The loss from the recent fires is estimated at about five million dollars by agents of the forestry commission.

PULPWOOD SUPPLY DISCUSSED

Report Made to Washington that Quebec's Prohibition of Exports Will Not Be Effective for Years

Washington.—The action of the government of the province of Quebec prohibiting exportation of pulpwood cut on its crown lands, taken up from and after May 1, 1910, and on settlers' lands taken up from and after Sept. 1, 1910, will not have the effect of reducing the quantity of pulpwood for export for years to come and perhaps never, according to Consul Gebhard Willrich, of Quebec, who has made a report on the subject to his government.

Consul Willrich reached this conclusion after a careful study of the pulpwood situation in Quebec. The conclusion, he says, would not be justified if settlers lands located Sept. 1, 1910, could have been made subject to the restriction, but that cannot be done for legal and other reasons. To deprive such settlers of their lands, he says, is not practicable nor even contemplated.

TO REPRESENT CANADA

Twenty Liberals and Twelve Conservatives to Represent Canadian Parliament

Ottawa.—The Evening Journal says it is understood that it is the intention of the government to follow the example of the Australian government and provide officially for representation of the parliamentary opposition at the coronation of King George.

The question will come up soon after the opening of parliament next month. It is probable, therefore, that the Dominion of Canada will be represented at the coronation by twenty Liberal members of parliament, twelve Conservatives, the chief justice of the supreme court, Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, and the premiers of the various provinces.

HOSMER LIFE SAVING STATION

Apparatus for British Columbia Mines Will Be Placed in Various Shafts

Victoria, B. C.—At Hosmer there has just been established the first life-saving station for mines in the province. The work has been done under the direct supervision of R. F. This is used in the resuscitation of those who are temporarily overcome by damp after an explosion.

Other stations will be established at Nanaimo and Middlesboro in a short time.

PROFITABLE SERVICE

Service From Manchester to Canada Has Proved to be Very Satisfactory

Montreal.—So satisfactory has been the regular weekly service of the freight steamers from Manchester to Quebec and Montreal during the seasons of navigation in 1909 and 1910 that the Manchester liners, limited, have decided on a weekly service to Canada all the year round.

The information was conveyed recently in a special cable from The Star's resident correspondent in London and was confirmed locally by Mr. R. J. Binning, manager for Furness, Withy and company, the Canadian agents of the Manchester liners.

Homesteads in Big Demand

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON VI.—FOURTH QUARTER, FOR NOV. 6, 1910.

Text of the Lesson, Matt. xxvi, 17-30.

Memory Verses, 26-28 — Golden Text, Luke xxii, 19—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

This lesson, entitled "The Last Supper," is recorded by Mark and Luke as well as by Matthew, and there is a long portion recorded by John only (chapters xiii to xvii, inclusive). It is easy to read it. How often we have done so, but who can understand it? Only by the Spirit can we in any measure grasp a little of its significance. May each one of us have a special anointing to read, to write, to meditate, to teach, and may the Spirit have full control of us, that Jesus Christ may be glorified. Luke says that He sent Peter and John, saying, "Go and prepare us the Passover, that we may eat." Then they asked Him, "Where wilt thou that we prepare?" To which He replied that they were to follow a man whom they would meet, in the city bearing a pitcher of water, and by him they would find the furnished upper room. They found as He had said and made ready the Passover. With the "Where wilt thou?" of this lesson I have in mind the "What wilt thou?" of Acts ix, 6, with Prov. iii, 5, 6, and its "Trust—lean not—acknowledge—He shall direct." We cannot learn the way of peace and His guidance in all things until we have learned that we of ourselves know nothing and can do nothing. Then see what simple, ordinary things He uses—a man, a pitcher of water and, away back in the story, a shepherd's rod, a dream many a time, a barley cake, the dew, a vine, a fig tree, a gourd, a worm, a hen and chickens, sparrows, everything? If there seems to be delay in guidance He is saying, "My time is not yet," but in due time He will say, "My time is at hand."

When evening came He sat down with the twelve and spoke of His great desire for this time, but that He would never again eat the Passover with them nor drink of the fruit of the vine till the kingdom of God should come (Luke xxii, 15-18), thus pointing to a future fulfillment of the Passover, when the deliverance of Israel from all nations would so far exceed the deliverance from Egypt that the deliverance under Moses would not seem worth mentioning in comparison (Jer. xxiii, 7, 8). Then followed, still between verses 20 and 21 of our lesson, the washing of their feet, with its great lesson of humility. Those who think that He taught only literal foot washing should consider His words to Peter, "If I wash thee not thou hast no part with me" (John xiii, 8). He washed the feet of Judas as well as of the others, yet Judas had no part with Him, and He said concerning him "It had been good for that man if he had not been born" (verse 24). If the wicked are to be annihilated, as some teach, there is no force in this saying of Jesus. Some time during the feast Jesus indicated Judas as His betrayer by dipping a sop and handing it to him. Satan having then entered into Judas, Jesus said to him, "That thou doest do quickly," and he went out immediately, and it was night (John xiii, 26-30). It has been night with him ever since, and there is no morning for him (Isa. viii, 20; R. V.).

The Passover being ended and Judas having gone out to do his devilish work, our Lord took bread, blessed, brake and gave to the disciples and said, "Take, eat; this is My body." Then He took the cup and gave thanks and gave it to them, saying, "Drink ye all of it, for this is My blood of the New Testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins." Then He added a word about not drinking it henceforth till the kingdom comes (verses 23-25). Paul in his statement of this says that Jesus added both in reference to the bread and the wine, "This do in remembrance of Me," and he added, "For as often as ye eat this bread and drink this cup ye do show the Lord's death till he come" (1 Cor. xi, 23-26). Those who teach that He gave them His actual body and blood to eat and drink should explain how this could be while He sat there among them. Rather let us accept His own explanation in John vi, 47, 54, that eating His flesh and drinking His blood is just believing in Him, for everlasting life is the result in each case, and there are not two ways of obtaining this life. What we eat we receive into us and assimilate it, and it becomes part of our body. As we eat His words, which are spirit and life, we eat Himself, and He dwells in us (John vi, 63; Jer. xv, 16).

We cannot begin to consider in so brief a lesson all the words and events of that evening, but between verses 29 and 30 of our lesson we must think of the whole of John xiv and with verse 31 of that chapter compare verse 30 of our lesson, remembering that John xiv is preceded by Peter's assurance of readiness to die with Jesus. How little we know ourselves! How well He knows us! And yet with all our vain boasting hear His "Let not your heart be troubled," as if He said: "You will find out what I know already, but do not think of yourself or be discouraged. After verse 30 of our lesson we must think of the whole of John xv, xvi and xvii. Then in verse 31 hear His quotation from Zech. xiii, 7, and let the sword of that verse point you back to the sword of Gen. iii, 24, which must find a sacrifice, the antitype of Abel's lamb, if man would approach God.

THE SCHOOL ASSESSMENT

A meeting of the trustees of the Trochu School District was held on Thursday afternoon, Nov 3rd, for the purpose of fixing the assessment of the village school district for 1910. It was decided that the assessment rate should be reduced, in the case of village property, from 10 mills to 5 mills, and in the case of homesteads from $13 to $9.60.

School taxpayers have to congratulate themselves on the substantial reduction in the assessment rate for the present year.
Roughly speaking, the assessment has been cut in half, making a very appreciable reduction in the taxation of all classes of assessable property.

No small amount of thanks is due to the trustees for their economical management of the school's affairs; which has permitted them to make so great a reduction in the assessment for this year.

The assessment notices are, of course, somewhat delayed, but it is not likely that, as a consequence, anybody will be put to much inconvenience. Strictly speaking, the notices should be presented in May, but this year, owing to the large amount of building which was going on at the time, it was thought advisable to wait, and thus secure a much greater field for assessment. In their decision to wait, the trustees were perfectly justified, for a number of buildings which are now present on the assessment roll, and which have helped largely to reduce the rate, would not otherwise have been included in the assessment for the current year.

F W Bernard, J P, agent for the G T P townsite, leaves Trochu shortly for Winnipeg in connection with the sale of the Trochu townsite. It is not likely that the lots will be placed on the market now before December.

The Harrow School house was the scene of a very entertaining and successful box social on the evening of October 28th. A large number of boxes were disposed of prices obtained being far above the average; two dollars being the lowest price paid for any box. The attendance was good and the evening passed off very enjoyable.

Wise Men and Women Know that most of the sicknesses of life come from inactive bowels and from unhealthy condition of the organs of digestion. Too Untidy

A citizen of culture and poetic taste went to a public library and asked for Shelley's "Prometheus Unbound." He was rather taken aback when the librarian replied, with great hauteur: "We don't keep any unbound books in this library."—Youth's Companion.

Depends Upon the Whisky

"A man out west says rattlesnake tastes as good as trout." "Maybe. But you won't find anybody sitting in the sun waiting for a rattler to come out and bite."

Do not let a cold settle on your lungs. Resort to Bickel's Anti-Consumptive Syrup at the first intimation of irritation in the throat, and prevent disease from lodging in the pulmonary organs. Neglected colds are the cause of untold suffering throughout the country, all of which could have been prevented by the application of this simple but powerful medicine. The price, 25 cents, brings it within the reach of all.

Pat and His Bike

A gentleman who had purchased a new bicycle gave his old one to an Irishman.

"You'll find the wheel useful when you are in a hurry," said the gentleman to Pat.

"O! trust it will be a long time till Oi can ride it," said the Irishman.

"Why, have you never tried?" asked the gentleman.

"O! hov," was the gloomy reply. "A frind lint me his. Oi had it three or four weeks, practisin' day and night, an' niver got so Oi could balance meself shtandin' still, let alone roide it."—Lippincott's Magazine.

"Economy," remarked the moralizer, "is the source of wealth."

"That's right," rejoined the demoralizer. "By denying one's self all the luxuries of life it is possible to save up enough money to provide them in liberal quantities for some one else."

IMPOVERISHED BLOOD

A Common and a Dangerous Trouble--You Must Enrich the Blood to Escape Danger.

Anaemia is simply a lack of blood. It is one of the most common and at the same time most dangerous diseases with which growing girls suffer. It is common because the blood so often becomes impoverished during development, when girls are too frequently allowed to over-study, over-work and suffer from a lack of exercise. It is dangerous because of the stealthiness of its approach, often being well developed before its presence is recognized, and because of its tendency to grow so steadily worse, if not promptly checked, that it may run into consumption.

The value of the tonic treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be known to every mother in the land. These Pills make new, rich blood, tone the organs and nerves, bring a glow of health to pale, sallowness, and drive away the weakness, headaches, faintness, heart palpitation and loss of energy so noticeable in young girls who are suffering from anaemia. To all such Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are an actual life saver. Miss Mabel McTavish, Prince Albert, Sask., says: "In my case I can only say that life had lost its magic; all work was a trial, and even pleasure only a task. When I went up a flight of stairs I was ready to drop from sheer weakness, and I had begun to think life would be a continued burden. But all this is now changed, thanks to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These were recommended to me, and after taking them for about a month I found my health renewed. I could sleep better, my appetite returned, and I was so strong and well that housework was no longer a burden to me. My sister seemed to be going the same way last summer and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were at once sent for and two boxes made her as well as ever. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are now the prized medicine in our home, and doctor bills have been fewer since we discovered the virtues of this great medicine."

Sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Exclusive to the Last

An instance of exclusiveness maintained under difficulties is reported from the ladies' cabin of a liner. All were sick except one lady and a cat, which wandered uneasily about. The lady ventured to stroke the cat, remarking, "Poor pussy." The cat was inclined to respond, and elevated its tail, in token of good will, when from a neighboring berth came in choking tones the words: "Excuse me, that is a private cat!"—Argonaut.

Solitude En Masse

Here is the extract from the prospectus of a hotel in Switzerland: "Weissbach is the favorite place of resort for those who are fond of solitude. Persons in search of solitude are, in fact, constantly flocking here from the four quarters of the globe."—London Telegraph.

The man who has daily injured himself to the habits of concentrated attention, energetic volition and self-denial in unnecessary things, will stand like a tower when everything rocks around him, and when his softer fellow mortals are winnowed like chaff in the blast.—William James.

Useless

"No, sir," said the red haired man, "I won't believe anything I can't see for myself."

"All right. I was going to tell you your necktie is up behind, but it's no use."

Had Money to Burn

The picture of misery—"Yus, lidy, there was a time w'en I 'ad money to burn, an' where I made the mistake was w'en I did burn it."

The old party—"And pray what did you burn it with?"

The picture of misery—"Wiv an ole flame o' mine."—London Punch.

"The county fair management used to take pride in showing the finest pumpkins an' sweet potatoes an' such that could be raised."

"Yes," replied Farmer Cornstossel. "But we've got 'way past that. What we're after now is the smartest aviators an' the most surprisin' orators."—Washington Star.

His Waterloo

A mosquito buzzing up on his way many things did tackle; he bled a boy and dog, they say, then made a rooster cackle. At last upon a drummer's cheek he settled down to drill; he prodded there for half a week—and then he broke his bill.

A fool man appreciates the nonsense of a pretty woman more than he does the sense of a homely one.

PLANK FELL ON HIM.

Hamilton Man Badly Injured.

Reuben Atherton, of 367 Ferguson Ave., Hamilton, an employee of the Otis Elevator Co., sustained serious injury while at work. A plank fell from a height on to his right foot, crushing it badly. He was taken home, where Zam-Buk was applied with good results.

Telling his experience of the balm, he said: "After the doctor had dressed the damaged foot with some preparation of his own I was in great pain, and as day after day I seemed to get no relief I left off medical treatment and tried Zam-Buk. From the very first application I traced an improvement. Zam-Buk really seemed to act like magic, cleaning all the unhealthy matter from the wounds, drawing out all discoloration, inflammation and soreness; and started healing in quick time. In two weeks the toe and foot were well again. Zam-Buk balm is certainly a wonderful healer, and I would not care to be without a box in the house. You can use the above statement in any paper, books or publications, as it may lead some other sufferer to use Zam-Buk and get relief as I did."

All workers should keep Zam-Buk handy. Applied to a cut or wound, it stops the pain, commences healing, and—what is equally fine—it prevents all possibility of blood-poisoning. Zam-Buk is equally good for skin diseases, and cures eczema, itch, ulcers, abscesses, varicose ulcers; scalp sores, blood-poisoning, etc., it heals cold cracks, chapped hands, frost bite; cures piles and all inflamed conditions of the skin and tissue. Fifty cents a box from all druggists and stores, but avoid imitations and substitutes, some of which are highly dangerous and none are beneficial.

Suburban Joy

A Purely Vegetable Pill.—The chief ingredients of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are mandrake and dandelion, sedative and purgative, but perfectly harmless in their action. The dyspeptic and all who suffer from liver and kidney ailments will find in these pills the most effective medicine in concentrated form that has yet been offered to the suffering.

"Are you 'Boots'?" blustered the big Londoner in the American hotel.

"Nope," replied the bellhop. "They call me 'scales.'"

The Londoner seemed mystified.

"Scales, eh? That's a blooming queer name. What do they call you 'Scales' for?"

"Because I get tipped so often. That's the reason, boss."

A Reassuring Truth

tended the entertainment at Lone Pine Friday last.

Olds after working a month or so in this district.

One of our young ladies is afraid to come home in the dark. Why?

It was reported that I. Gauna

Betchton but different news was received later.

tune to sprain her foot very badly last week but she is able to be a-had very bad luck.

Harvest Supper

The total proceeds of the supper and concert and sale amounted to $43.

At the close of the concert the food left over from the supper was disposed of by mock auction and realized $13.

R W Prowse and W Morfitt rendered valuable help and Mr Mc-Dermott kindly lent the cooking stove.

After the supper, the friends adjoined to the church to hear a Harvest Service of Song entitled "Reaping Time" rendered by the choir. Rev Chalmers opened with prayer and a brief address. Rev Davies read the story and Miss Jessie Shenfield presided at the organ.

The Harvest Supper of the Methodist church was held in McCue's hall on Wednesday 2nd, and was voted an entire success. Thanks to the Ladies Aid who gave so liberally and worked so hard. The tables fairly groaned with the weight of eatables placed upon them and even the appetite of Bowden failed to remove all the good things provided.

To Whom it May Concern

¶ We the undersigned hereby give notice the longest credit we will give in the future will be thirty days

¶ All who are in arrears for any longer time can get no more credit until the past account is paid

¶ Any customer who has failed to keep his word in the past need not apply for credit

¶ Shorter credit will enable us to give better prices therefore, the cash paying customers will be getting a just deal. Heretofore the customer who got over thirty days was doing business on his neighbors money

¶ To this end we have marked our goods to conform to the change of Terms.

¶ For over four years we have tried to oblige our customers by giving them credit when they were hard pushed only to find that in the end, many of them, when they got the money they would send to some department store for their goods; overlooking the fact that if they gave the local store the business on the same terms they would get better all round value for their money.

¶ Owing to keen competition credit business in the present day means failure for the merchant. Therefore our motto for the future is cash or trade for our goods and close prices

¶ We have a few customers who have always made their word good; to them we will extend a short credit at any time
